STUDENTS' ACHIEVEMENTS CELEBRATED AT SPECIAL EVENING

On Tuesday 27 September, a long-awaited celebration of a broad range of student successes took place in Kingston Theatre. Teachers, SLT, Governors of the College and even the Mayor of Surrey Heath, Cllr Helen Whitcroft, presented awards throughout the evening. Students were recognised for outstanding sporting achievements, their leadership skills, lockdown contributions, outstanding GCSE performances, academic excellence and making outstanding progress in their learning whilst an audience of proud parents looked on. Not only this, but the College honoured Sydnee Hempson by presenting The Barker Award for Resilience, Courage and Fortitude to Mrs Hempson and giving a new award in her name for creativity.

The Head Prefect at Collingwood, Charlotte Morris, and Deputy Head Prefect, Jake Pang, were fantastic Masters of Ceremony for the evening. They were also joined by Heidi Perkin, another Deputy Head Prefect, who did a brilliant job handing out awards to each presenter. The Senior Prefect Team at Collingwood proved an excellent asset in aiding the smooth running of the event and thanks to Evie Boswell's organisational skills and Luca Ward capturing the event on camera and our two Head Girls, Lexie Coster and Sophie Cherry, for ensuring that the event ran so smoothly. Special thanks to Mrs Valu and Lola Yates for making the event look and sound so good.

We are always keen to showcase the excellent work of our students and staff but I was struck with how brilliant our students were – they truly are our best ambassadors and we are very proud at how many of them were keen to support the College and talk to the wider community about their time at Collingwood. Please do say thank you to them for me.

If you have friends with children in Year 6 please remind them to book on a tour and submit their application by Monday 31 October deadline.

The awards were interspersed with some outstanding student reports and performances.

Two members of Collingwood's Debating Team, Bethan Wood and Chloe Burrows, spoke about the successes and benefits of being a part of this team; they did such a great job that the Mayor wants to come and see them in action!

There was an excellent performance from a selection of the In the Heights cast showcasing some of the incredible talent we have here at Collingwood.

Jake Pang also gave an amazing performance on the piano who played to a captivated audience.

Our pride for all of our students' success is key in the College community and ethos, and we were delighted to be able to celebrate this formally and publicly.

Our Sixth Form is based in its own specialist building with a study centre, common room and outdoor social area and consistently achieves outstanding results. We have a broad range of courses to choose from and we provide the small class sizes, excellent teaching and focussed support that enable students to be successful. This is why a high number of our Year 11 students decide to continue their education at Collingwood.

This is an ideal opportunity for students in Years 10 and 11, and their parents, to speak to individual subject tutors regarding our provision for post-16 education.

All welcome!
